

January 2, 2020 Modern Quilt Group Minutes
Bracebridge

Eight members were present. This was a great number since it was the day after New Years and many people were still busy or away.

We each talked about our Christmas family time and our sewing as usual. Most of us are glad to be able to get back to sewing after being so busy with family and christmas activity.

Not many shows are happening. I checked on-line re Spring Sewing festival but couldn't find info. If anyone knows please let us know.

Block of the month: Sandi showed this month's block last month. It is available on the guild's web site. I didn't assign for Feb. so that can be decided next month.

Book: Sheila showed us a book she got for Christmas-15 minutes of Play- Improvitational Quilts by Victoria Findlay Wolfe

Show and Share

Zelda -showed a produce bag, a porta catheter pillow and an insulated lunch bag that she made at a class in Huntsville

Gillian-showed a 16-patch flowered quilt on point

Carolyn-showed a blue and white Christmas tree runner

Sheila - showed a Christmas snow globe runner plus a quilted bag with self made fabric

Wendy W-showed a Hawaiian flower pattern that she hopes to hand applique while away in New Zealand

Mary McF - Virtual show and tell. Two little bags for the quilt show boutique and the Tedra skirt from Lotta Jansdotter's 'Everyday Style'. In decorating fabric from the scrap table at guild and faced with a piece of Waverly also from the table.

As mentioned before, I enjoy Sue Storey's www.fadanista.com and through her have learned about the instagram, #magam which means 'make a garment a month'. They also suggest a 'muslin' for new makes. I didn't have muslin, so the green fabric stood in. And now I know what adjustment is needed on the pattern for me for next time.

Next Meetings

Sandi will chair Feb meeting and Ardith in March and April meeting will be announced.

Pam Rimmer will do emails and communication.

Thanks to these gals as Mary and I are away for these months and so glad that our Modern Quilt Group is in good hands until we get back.

Sheila took pictures and sent them to Halina who will post them on guilds web site

All the best for 2020 and keep Happy and Healthy and Quilt to your hearts content!
